

Gray

PACIFIC NORTHWEST DESIGN

Nº 35: AUG. / SEPT. 2017

The skyscraper that brought
PHILIPPE STARCK
to Seattle

THE BIG IDEAS

SHAPING OUR FUTURE

URBAN DESIGN:

Laneways reimagined as vibrant public spaces

Flat-packed backcountry huts, assembled virtually anywhere, by anyone

ISSUE Nº 35 • $7 US; $9 CDN

DISPLAY THROUGH OCTOBER 1, 2017
Printed in Portland, Oregon, USA

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: Vancouver's Livingspace brings the newest collections from German furniture company e15 (pictured: Elbe III collection bench). This year's Exchange shines a light on design-forward Tokyo. The installation, designed by Vancouver-based FSOARK Architect Inc., will feature cutting-edge studios we+ (pictured: we+ Disguise flower vases) and Design for Industry. In the popular Clay & Glaze installation, contemporary ceramic designers (pictured: Matteo Cibic) show their newest work. INTRO/LA is curated by L.A.-based Paul Valentine of design agency Small Office and features multiple contemporary brands (pictured: Point Tables by Swedish studio Massproductions). Storied French furniture maker Moissonnier, which now has a showroom in Vancouver, debuts as an exhibitor this year. ✱